

Bauhaus Camp 2016

Invitation to the final presentation

23 young people from ten countries are currently participants in the Bauhaus Camp in Dessau. On 11 August they will present the outcomes of their design works on this year's theme „Movement: Leisure time, playing, free space “.

Dessau, 8 August 2016

Exercising one's creative talents, Bauhaus Camp imparts the Bauhaus idea to youngsters.

The Bauhaus in the 1920s was a place whose workshops performed artistic experiments and efforts in order to jointly shape a new world, a modern life. Attraction of young people to the Bauhaus was encouraged already at that time by Hannes Meyer, the second Bauhaus director (1928-1931) after its founder Walter Gropius (1919-1928).

Bauhaus Camp is an annual opportunity provided by the Bauhaus Dessau Foundation for young people, trainees and students to perform playful design experiments and thus familiarise themselves with the methodological bases of the Bauhaus tradition. The IKEA Foundation is the cooperation partner of the camp.

„Co-Machines“: This is the title under which Berlin-based artists Dan Dorocic and Anika Neubauer are mentoring their camp team to rediscover every-day urban life and shape it with their own ideas. „Co-Machines“ borne by curiosity and yearning will be built to enhance movement through and interaction with the city. Dessau-based artist Hilmar Prüß works with his team in the intermediate fields of man, space, form, colour and light. At the moment it is anybody's guess whether the result will be a „playful fictional film“, a pop-up playground or a moving play sculpture.

You are cordially invited to attend the public final presentation:

Bauhaus Camp 2016

Final presentation

Thursday, 11 August 2016, 2:00 pm

Start: Bauhaus Building Room 2.20

Gropiusallee 38, 06846 Dessau-Roßlau

Photos: Doreen Ritzau, Dessau

Press contact:

Dr. Helga Huskamp, Phone +49-340-6508-225

E-Mail presse@bauhaus-dessau.de

Bauhaus Dessau Foundation

Gropiusallee 38, 06846 Dessau-Roßlau/Germany

www.bauhaus-dessau.de

www.facebook.com/bauhausdessau

http://www.twitter.com/gropiusallee